

I hope you found the Paul McConkey Slalom enjoyable and in particular the new ICF format. You will appreciate that when a new format like this is implemented there will be issues and matters of interpretation which will need resolving as the event progresses and I would like to extend my thanks to the Jury for their help in doing this. Similarly for scoring and timing new methods had to be devised to cope with the new format and I was grateful for the flexibility of the timing team in making this possible.

I would also like to thank all those competitors, friends and family who came forward to help with the event, particularly on Sunday. We always expected that this would be the difficult day for help but the numbers who were willing to help made the role of Judging Organiser far easier.

I would finally like to thank anyone and everyone who helped to make the event a success, whether it was making cakes at midnight, or getting up early to start practice runs, sitting on the bank judging or spending the day in the portacabin fending off queries. I couldn't have done it without you.

If you have any post race feed back I would be pleased to receive it so we can make the race even better next year.
